Instructor Jason Vermilyer has a black belt in Brazilian Jiu Jitsu, with over 15 years of training experience, including wrestling. A lifelong resident of the New Carlisle area along with his wife and 2 kids, Jason sees the need for self defense training as an art to benefit adults and children in the community. Children, as well as adults, need to learn to be comfortable in a confrontational situation as well as developing confidence with learning new ways of controlling your body mechanics, while protecting themselves physically and lawfully.

All ages welcome.
(children must be accompanied by an adult)
